

December 10, 2014
NPGA Merchandise Report

It has been a great year for merchandise. Sales are approaching $16,000 for the year. My projected was $9,000.

I am still working on moving the old merchandise by discounting it on the website. My plans are to bring it to convention in CA and move as much as possible. I am still trying to work out details as to what hours I will keep. Since it is our local convention I would also love to be able to show. So I will either need to find someone to man the booth or just have limited hours.

The increased shipping charges really helped out. As of December 10th, income from shipping was $2,544.47 and expense was $1,917.10 so the additional helps cover our Paypal fees of $469.16.

I am continually adding new items with the change of season & trying to keep prices reasonable so everyone can enjoy NPGA merchandise.

The Basic Owners Manual needs updated scorecards & the merchandise page still lists Jim Huber.

I am always open to suggestions.

I would love to have another year with sales this high but am afraid to project it again. So I will project sales around $12,000 for 2015 with hopes of sales near $15,000.